

In response to COVID-19

PHONE/ONLINE Counselling Services

Are you suffering from depression, anxiety, lethargy, or stress from the COVID-19 pandemic?

Are you in need of support due to social distancing, loneliness from self-isolation, relationship problems due to difficulties in communicating with others, or any other problems in the household?

KCWA provides confidential counselling over the phone or via email. In response to COVID-19, we are providing telework services until the end of May 2020, Monday through Friday from 9:00am until 4:30pm.
